

A Divine Mother Essence

The Portal

- ♥ Received on Saturday 22 July 2017, Mary Magdalene's name day. It was a warm sunny summer morning.
- ♥ Location: Domela Nieuwenhuisplantsoen, a small public garden in Amsterdam, the Netherlands.
- ♥ Between 12:29 and 12:39 I received this special vibration, right where the entrance to the Mary Magdalene Church used to be. This building was demolished in 1968. The public garden was planted within the contours of the church in 1972.
- ♥ Key words: portal to your womb, to Mary Magdalene and the Divine Feminine within you.
- ♥ This essence is a gift for women, but if men feel attracted to it, they may of course take it. After all, at the highest level we are all one. Trust your intuition – when you are a man and this essence attracts you, please take it. It will open hidden portals within you, which will help you to make your life fulfilling.

I already knew for about six months that something special was about to happen if I would visit the location in Amsterdam where the Roman Catholic Mary Magdalene Church used to be (1891-1968). Then one day I knew that Mary Magdalene's name day would be the right moment. The evening before I prepared myself and read on the internet that the church's contours are still visible in the public garden which is situated there now. There are indeed still a few low walls with arches.

On arrival I notice that a large sycamore is keeping watch near the main entrance. I thank the tree for its work and see that on two spots along the garden there are 'no dogs allowed' signs. This location may not be soiled with poop.

It quickly becomes clear to me that I may receive a vibration of Mary Magdalene here, within the contours of the former church. The precise spot, however, is slightly disappointing. My Guidance asks me to take a seat on an old, flaking bench, right next to a rubbish bin. Far from my first choice, but well, I think, nothing is what it seems. My view is a flower bed filled with beautiful pink hydrangeas of which the balls of flowers are drooping with thirst.

On this green bench with pink view I receive a channelling from Mary Magdalene. Very symbolic, the Emerald Heart Light (green) once created the conditions to receive Mary Magdalene's gift, the Divine Plan Healing System (pink).

"I invited you before the holy energies here will be disturbed," She speaks through me. "The next time you'll be here, it will look totally different." I did indeed read about that, soon this park will get a more modern appearance.

"The place where you are now receiving your vibration, lies in the centre of the church entrance. This location symbolises the portal to me, Mary Magdalene, to my wisdom. The vibration gives you access to your womb. It opens the portal to the Divine Feminine, it awakens the Sacred Womb, the holy womb chakra. And the thirsty flowers you are looking at, they symbolise the women who are looking for Mary Magdalene, yearning, often without realising it themselves."

Are you ready to be guided to your Sacred Womb? Are you ready to enter your Divine Feminine Wisdom? Mary Magdalene is ready to help you.

The portal to Mary Magdalene is The Womb and at the same time Mary Magdalene is the portal to The Womb. This essence provides access to The Portal. And once you have become one with your womb, you automatically become one with Mary Magdalene, the Divine Feminine power, the Universal Divine Feminine.

Are you ready to enter Mary Magdalene's wisdom? Are you ready to gain access to your power, your divine feminine wisdom? Are you ready to become one with yourself? Are you ready for it?

If so, take this essence and you will be amazed of its power and what it does for you. It gives you access to your womb which is your Holy Grail. That Holy Grail is your treasure chest containing your golden treasure. Mary Magdalene will help you find it.

Ask and you will receive. You have free will; if you don't ask, you will not receive. Ask Mary Magdalene for help. How? Connect with Her via your heart, ask Her what you want to ask and you will receive the answer. Her answer may not come immediately, be prepared for it to come in an unexpected manner.

Ritual

Taking this essence is an opening ritual. With it you open your Sacred Womb. By opening the portal, you gain access to the wisdom, the beauty and power hidden in your womb.

Be prepared for any answer. Be prepared for your Self, for your Own power, for your Own wisdom, your Own access point, your Womb.

With reverence and respect,

Harriët Kroon
